MELLON TAX BILL IS MADE PUBLIC

Washington, December 28.—Reversing its previous policy the house ways and means committee today made public the new revenue bill in the form it was sent to the capitol by Secretary Mellon.

The bill was made public in the form of a reprint of the voluminous revenue act of 1921, with scores of interlineations and other amendments indicated. Detailed outlines of these amendments were made public by Secretary Mellon on November 11, and on December 10, and were printed throughout the country.

In many cases the language employed to carry these changes into effect is so highly technical as to be unintelligible except on the basis of explanations by the experts attached to the committee and to the treasury for that purpose.

The text contains few changes from the outline of the bill which has been publicly announced at the treasury. It follows Mr. Mellon's proposals for a sweeping revision of administrative provisions to prevent tax dodging, includes a provision for a board of twenty-eight tax appraisers to act as a court of appeals in disputed cases and makes detailed provision for the tax reductions advocated by the treasury.

A fight for publicity for the measure was conducted in a committee meeting yesterday by Representative Garner, of Texas, the ranking democratic member. At that time Chairman Green and other majority members insisted that the text should be held in confidence as a courtesy to Mr. Mellon. Inasmuch as the principal provisions already have been published, however, Mr. Green decided today that there was no necessity for further withholding publication.

The committee recessed after yesterday's session until after the first

Longworth Named For Vice-President By Ohio Builders

Cincinnati, Ohio, December 28.—In appreciation of his efforts in obtaining certain income tax exemptions for building and loan associations, Congressman Nicholas Longworth, was last night "nominated" for vice president of the United States by one of the speakers at a dinner tendered to Mr. Longworth by the Hamilton County League of Building associations.

H. S. Schroetter, Covington, Ky., secretary of the Kentucky State League of Building association, said the building association members of Kentucky feel just as grateful to Congressman Longworth as do those in Cincinnati, "and as we can not come over here to vote for him I nominate him to be the running mate of Coolidge, so that we can vote for him."

of the year when the full committee again will take up consideration of the measure.

The normal income tax sections of the existing law are left undisturbed except that the present 4 per cent rate is reduced to 3 per cent and the present 8 per cent rate is reduced to 6 per cent. The surtaxes provided for start with:

"One per centum of the amount by which the net income exceeds $10,000 and does not exceed $12,000; advancing 1 per centum for each additional $2,000 up to $30,000, which carries a surtax of 13 per centum of the amount by which the net income exceeds $30,000 and does not exceed $40,000; thereafter increasing 1 per cent for each additional $6,000 up to $100,000 or over which carries a surtax of 25 per cent.

MANY SEEKING PLACE OF CHATTOOGA SHERIFF

Summersville, Ga., December 28.—(Special).—Chattooga county has at least one office that became quite popular during the past few weeks. No less than five candidates have announced for the office of sheriff of the county recently, two new aspirants formally entering the race yesterday. J. T. Kimbrell, of Lysterly, and Ray Allison, of this place, are the latest candidates to announce for the office. W. H. Gowan, of Dry Valley; C. T. Webb, of South Summersville, and Sheriff Frank Thomason are the other aspirants. Sheriff Thomason, who is said to be the youngest sheriff in the state, is serving his first term. It is said there will be other candidates for this office within a few days.

Archie W. Hill, well-known young man of this place, the son of the late J. H. Hill, of Lysterly, has formally entered the race for tax assessor, opposing Clark V. Fry, of South Summersville, the only other announced candidate for the office, which at present is held by R. M. King, of Menlo. It is said Mr. King will seek reelection, but he has not made formal announcement.

Friends of B. H. Edmondson, of Summersville; R. M. Crawford, of Lysterly, and Jim Pursey, of Trion, have suggested their names as candidates for members of the board of county commissioners. Mr. Edmondson is at present chairman of the board and Mr. Crawford is clerk. A. H. Glenn, incumbent, D. P. Henley, former sheriff and tax collector, and Austin Scoggins, well-known business man of this place, are candidates for tax collector. D. C. Green is unopposed for superior court. Judge J. P. Johnston at present has no opposition for the office of ordinary. He has held the office for nearly twenty years.

Guide's Daughter Sues Movie Co. For Million Libel

Kansas City, Kas., December 28.—Charging that the motion picture production, "The Covered Wagon," had caused her to be held up to shame and ridicule, Mrs. Virginia Bridger Hahn, late today brought suit in the Wyandotte county district court here for damages of one million dollars against the Famous Players-Lasky corporation and the Paramount Pictures corporation.

Mrs. Hahn, whose home is here, asserts she is the only living child of James "Jim" Bridger, widely-known plainsman, a prominent figure in the story of "The Covered Wagon," a picture based upon the historical novel of that name written by the late Emerson Hough.

According to the petition in the suit, the motion picture production depicts Bridger as a heavy drinker and as living with two Indian squaws. Mrs. Hahn asserts that her father was an upright, honorable man, never known to have drunk to excess, charges that she suffers great humiliation because the picture shows him in several carousals.

SCIENCE PLANNING TO USE HYPNOTISM TO TREAT DISEASES

St. Louis, December 28.—Science is making headway in hypnotism and eventually hopes to use it in the treatment of many diseases, according to a paper by Professor G. A. Talbert, of the University of Nebraska, read at the convention here of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The paper was read before the physiological branch of the organization. Experiments, Professor Talbert asserted, showed that suggestions transmitted to person in a hypnotic state carry with them changes in blood pressure, similar to changes which the suggested act would in reality produce. Such changes may be recorded scientifically, he added.

"Besides finding out scientifically just what hypnotism may do," said Professor Talbert, "we are hopeful of finding a use for it in the study of the opening and closing of the pores, and thereby establish a use for it in the diagnosis and treatment of many diseases, in which sweating is a symptom or manifestation. It is a pioneer field but we are hopeful of accomplishment."

Medical science as yet has been unable to find a cure for Addison's disease, whose diagnosis is usually clinched when the unfortunate victim's body turns to a pronounced bronze or dark amber color, but it is making headway in arresting the disease by injections of a serum made from a gland, it was reported by Dr. L. C. Rountree, of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., in a paper read before the pharmacological branch. He said progress was being made in the treatment of this malady.

PERFECTS NEW METHOD OF BLOOD TRANSFUSION

London, December 28.—A new method of blood-transfusion for treating serious cases of septicemia is being successfully used at St. Mary's hospital, London, says The Daily Mail. It is the invention of the famous pathologist, Sir Almroth Wright, who calls it "immune transfusion." Dr. Wright found during the war that simple transfusion was useless in desperate cases of septicemia and adopted a plan of drawing the blood of a healthy person, inoculating it with vaccine to increase its power of killing microbes, and then injecting it into the patient. From this developed the improved method, namely the inoculation of a healthy blood donor with vaccine and then, when this person's blood has manufactured a large quantity of microbe-killing substances, drawing from this stream for injection.

by delegates from Georgia, South Carolina and Florida.

Among the entertainment features of the meeting will be an automobile tour of the city, followed by an oyster roast on Monday.

Illustrated lectures on the naval stores industry, and a special entertainment for school children, will occupy two nights.

Officers of the congress are: President, Bonnell H. Stone, Blainville, Ga.; chairman executive committee, Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt, Chapel Hill, N. C.; vice president, P. R. Camp, Franklin, Va.; secretary, R. D. Forbes, New Orleans; assistant secretary, J. R. Weston, Logtown, Miss.

School Department Will Remain Open On New Year's Day

The school department will remain open New Year's day to issue tickets to children entering the Atlanta system for the first time. It was announced Friday by H. Reid Hunter, assistant superintendent. He urged, however, that applications be made today and Monday if possible.

M. E. Kellman, director of census and attendance, stated that new students to Atlanta and the new crop of youngsters "just turned six" would just attend several thousand by the opening of the second term.

The Storer-Houston school for negroes will open after the Christmas holidays and will afford seats to non-resident negro children who have had no school to attend this fall. Arrangements have been made to continue that school through the summer to make up the time lost. Triple sessions will be held until the close of other schools in June and then the pupils will be divided among other school buildings and a longer split-session school day will be arranged.

Bootlegger's Clients Jurors at His Trial; Prominent Men Held

Little Rock, Ark., December 28.—When Vestal Stillwell came up for trial on charges of violating the liquor law, he noticed several of his "customers" sitting in the jury box. He was more amazed when witnesses after witnesses gave damaging evidence against him.

The jury found him guilty. Friday federal officials who seized Stillwell's "little black book" named the names of 42 prominent residents of Jackson county who had dealings with the bootlegger. They are held to the grand jury on charges of violating the dry law.

VETTER AND HIS WIFE ARE GIVEN TEN YEARS

New York, December 28.—Ernest and Marie Vetter, who were convicted of first-degree manslaughter for the killing of Alonzo J. Storey last May, were each sentenced to eight to ten years in prison today by Judge Humphrey in Long Island City.

Before the sentence was pronounced, Vetter declared that she had nothing to say but her husband pleaded for leniency. Mrs. Vetter will serve her term in Auburn prison and her husband in Sing Sing.

Storey, a former suitor of Mrs. Vetter, was killed in the Vetter home and his body wrapped in newspaper sacks and thrown into Jamaica Bay.

Poisoning Sets in After Tooth Pulled, And Captain Dies

Savannah, Ga., December 28.—George A. Croft, captain of the river steamer Merchant, died today as the result of having a tooth pulled. He had a tooth extracted Monday and blood-poisoning set in. He was carried to a hospital Wednesday and died this morning.

MEAT FOR HEALTH

Baked Spareribs With Apples—Wipe fresh spareribs carefully with a cloth which has been wrung out of hot water. Arrange the meat in a roasting pan and place in a hot oven. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Lower gradually. Baste with drippings occasionally. When the meat is well browned, place apples, which have been cored, in the pan with the meat. Fill the cavity of each apple with brown sugar and let bake until soft. In serving arrange the apples as a border around the spareribs.

Pork and Sauerkraut—Requires 2 pounds spareribs, 1 pound sauerkraut, either fresh cooked or canned, seasoning. Wash spareribs and place in roaster. Bake in moderate oven for 1-2 hours. Add sauerkraut, salt, pepper and any other additional seasoning desired. Heat the sauerkraut, arrange spareribs on platter and surround with sauerkraut.

Baked Spareribs—Five pounds of spareribs (for family of five). Have your butcher roast the spareribs through the center. Prepare roasting pan by dredging the bottom with flour. Sprinkle salt, pepper and flour over meat and place in the roasting pan. Add 1-2 cup of boiling water. Roast the spareribs in a moderate oven an hour to the pound, or cook in a pressure cooker in less than one-third the time. To cook with a sage or apple stuffing, which adds much to their deliciousness, the ribs are cracked twice, crosswise, the ends folded over the dressing and sauerkraut in place.

Fresh Pork, Parsnips and Carrots—Roast four pounds of pork, 4 large parsnips, 4 large carrots, 4 large parsnips, 1 small red cabbage, seasoning. Cook pork in piece 1-2 hours until soft. Remove from kettle and finish cooking meat. Cut up pork into thin slices. Arrange side by side on the middle of a large platter. Around the meat serve the cabbage quartered and vegetables to suit taste. Serve with high-grade meat relish.

Happy Years in College Recalled by Yale Clubs

One of the praiseworthy features of the concert given Friday night by the Yale Glee and Banjo Clubs, at the Woman's club auditorium, was the selection of the original songs sung by C. M. Spofford, 24, and Mr. Field, (year not given on the program). Incidentally, credit for courage must be given the quartet when it chose negro "spirituals" for presentation in the home of these Afro-American folk songs.

The glee club, is just what a college glee club should be, a good humor, good singing bunch of good fellows. The banjo club can be similarly described, by substituting "playing" for "singing." The instrumentalists scored most heavily with "Stars and Stripes Forever," that old favorite by Sousa, and their "Southern Melody." The vocalists won their largest applause with "Mother O' Mine," "Hand Organ Man," and "Old Man Noah."

The only pity is that the clubs are giving but the one performance, so there is no chance for those who missed it to correct their error. However, make a mental note to turn out if these Yale fellows ever come back to Atlanta. RALPH T. JONES.

Doby Foundation Members Enjoy Annual Banquet

Cash gifts aggregating nearly $500 were distributed to members of the Doby Savings foundation Friday at its fourth annual banquet, given by S. C. Doby, prominent Atlanta business man and originator and benefactor of the organization.

The foundation, formed four years ago by Mr. Doby to promote thrift and savings among negroes, has grown to a membership of 44 and its members have on deposit in savings approximately $11,000.

Increases in Pay Are Now Assured Police - Firemen

BY STEWART F. GELDER.

Holiday happiness took firmer hold on 593 modest households in Atlanta Friday.

Furrows of care related a little in the brows of 593 men who have worried much and a more hopeful sparkle lighted their eyes of nearly that number of patient wives.

Mayor Walter A. Ransome had signed the ordinance of council granting increases in pay to all of the 593 policemen and firemen.

The amount is $120 a year to each private and $50 or $30 a year to most of the officers.

It means, perhaps, that what Christ-mas night junior will not have to cry himself to sleep over the triangle that Santa could not afford to bring.

It means a little lessening of the pinch of poverty for some who have been least paid; a few more of the good things other people have for some who have been better paid.

The total amount of the increases in pay will go in effect the first pay-day of January, a little more than $60,000. It represents a compromise reached by council in compliance with Thursday night request that only increases be made which the city will be able to pay.

The raises were voted by council in special session Thursday night, after a long and bitter fight. The council is now being held up for further investigation of the city's financial condition.

FINAL CONFERENCES OF RADIO MEET TODAY

Technical conferences, addresses by visiting radio celebrities, competition for prizes valued at $2,000, and a forum for the founding of a fourth district executive council, are big features scheduled for the closing day of the southeast's first radio convention, in session here.

Professor A. M. Ransky, Jr., of the University of Minnesota, and John Renartz, inventor, of South Manchester, Conn., featured the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Friday night. The two speakers, among the world's foremost authorities on radio, dealt with possibilities of radio and explained many intricate details of the popular American pastime of "listening in."

Wires Congratulations.
The reading Thursday night of personal messages from Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and a telegram from Hiram Percy Maxim, congratulatory to the southeast's first radio convention, were greeted with prolonged applause by delegates at the banquet on Ansley road garden.

Secretary Hoover's letter was read by Captain Walter Van Nost, United States supervisor of radio in the fourth federal district, who presided as toastmaster. The message from Mr. Maxim, president of the American Radio-Relay league, had been transmitted overseas by amateur operators and was received in Atlanta by Henry L. Reid, of station 4 KT. Seven of the nine radio districts of the nation are represented at the convention, with Alabama, the Carolinas, Florida and Tennessee represented by big delegations.

Local Speakers.
Friday morning's session included conferences and addresses by Henry L. Reid, F. H. Schnell, traffic manager of the A. R. L.; A. A. Hebert, treasurer of the same organization; H. E. Bussey, of the General Electric engineering staff, and J. D. Gibson, of the A. H. Grebe company.

A trip to Stone Mountain Friday afternoon and a unique contest on top of the world's largest granite mountain, were enjoyable and interesting features.

Through the courtesy of Captain A. H. Baker, signal corps officer, Fort McPherson, delegates inspected the huge army wireless plant, station WVE, Thursday afternoon.

Donation of a twenty-watt transmitter to the Atlanta Radio club by the Radio Corporation of America and awarding of a silver loving cup to the amateur operator in the east gulf district making the best transmitting record for the year were among the interesting announcements Friday.

The convention comes to a close with a short meeting Saturday afternoon.

McPHERSON REVIVAL PROVES BIG SUCCESS
The revival now being held at Fort McPherson is attracting large congregations and many have come forward to lay the foundation of a Christian life. The services are in charge of Rev. B. W. Huckabee, general conference evangelist. He is assisted by the pastor, Rev. C. A. High. The revival closes January 3.

COLONEL CORPUS FORMER ATLANTAN, DIES IN PALO ALTO

Colonel Rex Van Den Corput, former Atlantan and a graduate of Georgia Tech, died Wednesday at Palo Alto, Cal., according to advices reaching Atlanta Friday.

The son of Major Max Corput, pioneer Atlanta contractor, Colonel Corput was 45 years old.

put was 45 years old, was born in Atlanta, and before receiving his degrees at Tech attended Boys' High school. Following his graduation he became connected with the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills, where he remained until the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. He enlisted in the United States army and was in active service until about a year ago, when failing health necessitated his retirement. His military career was marked by distinguished service in the St. Mihiel campaign and other notable campaigns of the late World war.

Surviving him are his widow, who was Miss Jessie Smith, of Atlanta, two sons, Lieutenant Rex Van Den Corput, Jr., and William Van Den Corput; a daughter, Miss Jessie Corput; a sister, Mrs. William Joseph; and a brother, Major Gus Van Den Corput.

TAXES ARE DUE ON "VACANT LOT GARAGE" SPACES

Proprietors of "vacant lot garages," or parking spaces for automobiles on vacant lot property in Atlanta and other Georgia cities, are liable to taxation as garage proprietors, according to a decision handed down Friday by the office of the state attorney general.

The opinion was rendered by Assistant Attorney General T. R. Gress, in response to a request from W. S. Richardson, tax collector for Fulton county. In his request, Mr. Richardson stated that the proprietor of one of these places had voluntarily paid the tax, but objected to others, in competition with him, escaping it. In rendering his opinion, Mr. Gress quoted that section of the tax law of 1921 which provides that garages, defined for taxation purposes, are establishments where "automobiles are stored." This, he states, clearly includes these public parking places on vacant lots, as their duties are based entirely upon the storage of automobiles during their owner's absence.

WILSON IS SURE OF 1924 VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS

Foundation Prize for Outstanding Public Service To Stay at $25,000 for Three Years.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, December 28.—On the sixtieth anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson, one year from today, the first $25,000 prize of the Woodrow Wilson foundation for outstanding public service will be awarded.

The trustees of the foundation, announced today at a luncheon celebrating the former president's sixtieth birthday anniversary.

The trustees also announced that nominations for the first annual award could be submitted from today until June 1, 1924. A jury of nine, headed by President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard, will select the winner.

The annual prize will remain at $25,000 for the first three years, and thereafter probably will be increased from the fund, which now is over $800,000, and has an income of about $27,000 a year. The trustees said the foundation fund probably would total $1,000,000 before subscription books were closed.

The prize will go to the "living individual who has rendered within a specified period unselfish public service of enduring value." It also was announced that works of writer-candidates must have appeared in print and must have been written in English; nominations also must be in writing, with two secondaries.

A congratulatory birthday telegram was sent Mr. Wilson by the trustees. At another celebration of Mr. Wilson's birthday, the Women's National Democratic Club, Inc., received from him a message which read:

"It makes me very proud to realize that I have such friends and supporters as the ladies of the Women's National Democratic Club, Inc., and their birthday greetings give me unalloyed pleasure."

"I hope that the year now about to open may prove a prosperous one to the club in every way and that every sort of happiness may come to its members. I feel confident that it is to be a year of democratic triumph."

WILSON'S WORKS WILL NEVER DIE.

Philadelphia, December 28.—Woodrow Wilson's accomplishments will live forever and acclaim him the greatest man of this generation, Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary of state and Mr. Wilson's biographer, said in a message which read:

"When Woodrow Wilson dies," said Mr. Long, "the people of this nation as a tribute to his remarkable achievements will build him a monument that will be higher than Washington's and wider than Lincoln's."

Mr. Long added that aside from Mr. Wilson's war program the legislation promoted by him would place him on a plane with the nation's greatest men.

NEW CAR DECKS

CURB ON "S" STREET.

Washington, December 28.—When former President Wilson stepped from his S street home here Friday afternoon to take his daily automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson, he stared in wonder. Instead of the usual second-hand touring car, in which he has been accustomed to drive through the parks, there stood a stately, elegant blue Rolls-Royce, especially built, and fit for a king.

Friends of the ex-president, whose names have not been disclosed, who left it there for him with a simple note:

"In celebration of your sixtieth birthday, please accept this slight token of esteem from a group of your friends and admirers."

Two bodies go with the gift automobile—a limousine and a seven-passenger touring car—but as yet only the touring body has been shipped. The other is expected to arrive in the color is a rich cobalt blue with gray-orange stripes. The initials "W. W." adorn the rear doors. The trimmings are of nickel, bright and shining. The roof of both bodies is higher than the regular models, so that he will not be forced to stoop when he enters the car, the doors are wider and the cushions deeper and more luxurious. The front seat is constructed with a partition so that the ex-president may ride with the chauffeur and experience the comfort of sitting in an overstuffed arm chair at home.

PEDESTRIAN HURLS

MISSILE INTO CAR

D. F. Willis, of the Oakland automobile company, was painfully cut about the face by windshield glass broken by a book hurled by a pedestrian as he skipped out of the way of the Willis automobile on Peachtree street Friday night. The book-thrower, who told Willis he was C. C. Griffin, well known in Georgia athletic circles, explained that he had not intended injury to the car, but that he was annoyed by the Willis and no complaint was made to police. The cuts were dressed at St. Joseph's infirmary.

A Week's Rest— Without Pay

A week's rest—no work, a comfortable bed with all the care given a sick person. Sounds pretty alluring, eh?

But suppose the week's rest is one "without pay." That makes a difference. Many and many a man couldn't afford it. But with the thousands of travel and pedestrian accidents happening everywhere all the time, many who "can't afford it" are forced to do so.

If you protect your income and insure your life with an Atlanta Constitution Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy, you safeguard yourself against the "rests" you "can't afford."

Here's an example of a man who was forced to take "a week's rest." William Squires, of 501 East Solomon street, Griffin, Ga., was injured in an accident on November 26 when he was run over by an automobile. He was totally disabled for a week, but as he was a policy-holder under The Constitution's unparalleled protective policy, on December 20 he was paid $10. This payment somewhat made up for the enforced period of idleness.

Any person from 16 to 70 years of age can secure a $1,000 Constitution Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy for only $1 by adding that sum to the regular subscription price of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and agreeing to take the paper for one year. In cases where carrier service is available, no advance payment is necessary, as advance payment will collect on a weekly or monthly basis.

GAS RAISED 2 CENTS
BY INDIANA COMPANY

Chicago, December 28.—A two-cent increase in the price of gasoline, effective tomorrow, was announced today by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the first upward price movement since the gasoline war in the fall brought gasoline prices down in most of the country to the lowest levels in years.

Girl Disappears,
Youth Is Shot,
Father in Jail

Hot Springs, Ark., December 28.—The disappearance of a 15-year-old girl, Sally Williamson, led to the shooting and probable fatal wounding today of Clarence Caldwell, 21, and the arrest of Henry Williamson, 45, father of the missing girl.

Williamson was held without bond tonight on a charge of shooting Caldwell. He declined to discuss the affair, except to urge officers to continue the search for his daughter.

Caldwell, who suffered two bullet wounds in the stomach, has only a slight chance for recovery. It was reported at the hospital to which he was removed that he was in a critical condition.

Miss Williamson went to her work as usual Thursday morning, her family said, and late in the day telephoned her mother that she would spend the night with a girl friend. It developed today that she did not visit her friend and a search for her was instituted.

After consulting the sheriff, Williamson, with his young son and two small daughters, went to the Caldwell home to question the youth, who had been keeping company with Miss Williamson. Caldwell went out to the car and told the Williamson family that he had shot Caldwell.

Friends of Caldwell declared that he was not a bad boy, but that he was a victim of a bad situation. They said he was a simpleton.

LEO KORETZ SENDS
CHRISTMAS CARDS
TO HIS VICTIMS

Chicago, December 28.—Leo Koretz, who induced relatives and wealthy friends to invest $5,000,000 in Panama canal swamps which they thought were gushing with oil, and then vanished, was not content with taking the money but had to have the last word as well. His victims told the authorities today.

In the mails today scores of those who lost money in investments with Koretz, received neatly engraved New Year's greetings signed with Koretz's name. They read as follows:

"I could be transported. This moment to your door. I'll bring you smiles by dozens. And good wishes by the score."

Investors scented the theory that the cards, mailed in Chicago were sent by a practical joker, and declare the signatures genuine.

SKYWRITERS BACK
FROM REPAIR SHOP

If today is fair the Lucky Strike signature in smoke will again fill the skies, it was announced Friday night by Captain C. R. McMullen, pilot of a sky-writing airplane. He had returned to Atlanta after three weeks laid up for repairs as the result of rain encountered in Atlanta three weeks ago.

WASHINGTON SENDS HONDURAS WARNING

Washington, December 28.—The state department has taken a hand in the disturbed situation growing out of the presidential campaign in Honduras to the extent of expressing to the Central American republics its hope that the concord recently negotiated here will not be disrupted and informing Honduran officials that the United States regards with disfavor any attempt by a government to perpetrate itself except by constitutional processes.

Instructions to acquaint the president and other responsible officials of Honduras with the American government's views were dispatched to Minister Morales at Tegucigalpa. The department also sent a summary of these instructions to its representatives in the other four central American republics, with a reminder of the treaty obligations undertaken at the Washington conference, which was sponsored by the United States, although it was not a party to the agreement.

Justice Cohalan
Quits His Bench
'To Earn Living'

New York, December 28.—Daniel F. Cohalan, state supreme court justice tonight announced he had presented his resignation to Governor Smith, to take effect next January 12. The difficulties of trying to bring up a large family on a justice's salary of $17,500 a year, he said, prompted his action.

While the justice did not reveal his future plans, local newspapers, forecasting his resignation recently, said he would quit the bench to manage the campaign of Senator James H. Watson, a Democrat, in the democratic presidential nomination. He would not comment on these reports at that time or today.

In his letter to the governor, Justice Cohalan asked the executive to use his influence to have judicial salaries increased, so that "men of moderate means or without families can become or remain judges."

"The best interests of the public require a remedy to the financial worry which the present salary brings to a number of them," Justice Cohalan told the governor.

Justice Cohalan was born in Middleton, N. Y., 57 years ago. For years he was an acknowledged leader in Tammany hall political circles.

He was a member of the Friends of Irish Freedom movement and a bitter opponent of the league of nations. In 1919 was refused an audience with former President Wilson on his last appearance in this city.

The justice later was accused of refusing to join in a toast to Mr. Wilson, then president, at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria.

existed almost at the beginning of the period of 10,000 to 500,000 years ago, he declared, "and even these are not the first traces of the existence of a human race there. Stone implements of more primitive type than those used by these people and which apparently were the tools of men of a lower type have been discovered."

Praises Evolution As Beautiful.

Discovery of the "pitted jaw," apparently a part of a primitive man, found in the cave of Peking, China, has been hailed as a beautiful discovery, as it was a horrid something of which we should be ashamed," Dr. Hrdlicka said that critics of the theory could "find a wealth of evidence to prove the truth of evolution and the beauty and complexity of the development of man from the ape."

Worm Is Marvel.

The microstoma, a lovely worm, so simple in construction that it has no complete alimentary canal and only two minute nerve centers, but which is wonderfully equipped by nature to defend itself, was the subject of a paper presented by members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science today as one of the marvels of the animate world by Dr. William A. Koeber and John F. Barker, of the University of Virginia.

The chief enemy of the microstoma is the hydra or small water polyp, which is equipped with "stinging threads" like the sea nettle. When attacked, however, the microstoma emits from its mouth not a magic word, but a fluid which paralyzes the hydra before it can use its stinging threads. Then the microstoma makes a meal of the hydra, "stinging threads" included. The stinging apparatus, however, is not digested but by some process comes to the surface of the microstoma's body where, after being transplanted, it is used to paralyze other victims.

ROCKEFELLER BACK ON LINKS; NOT ILL

Ormond Beach, Fla., December 28.—Absence of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., from the golf links for five days gave rise to rumors that he was ill, but these rumors were dispelled today when he appeared on the links for a two-tee with General A. Ames, of Lowell, Mass., and played his usual 18 holes. It was learned that Mr. Rockefeller had discontinued his golf out of respect to an old neighbor, Andrew D. Wadsworth, of Springfield, Mass., who died at his winter home here Sunday.

After leaving the links Mr. Rockefeller took a two-hour motor trip and appeared in good health. He and General Ames have been playing golf together during the winter season here for eight years.

Mr. Rockefeller arrived here December 15 to spend the season at his winter home. The seasoners, he came a month later this year than in his custom.

WIND VELOCITY

WAS 150 MILES AN HOUR.

Rome, December 28.—As Italian warships join in the search off Sicily for bodies of the crew of the Dismare, Mediterranean steamers arriving at Italian ports bring word of the great gale in which the dirigible apparently met her doom.

The captain of the Italian steamer Porto di Alessandria reports that on the night of December 25 he picked up wireless distress signals of the giant aircraft. A tremendous gale was blowing, and the captain estimates the wind velocity at 150 miles an hour.

His ship was battling heavy seas on the Naples-Benghazi route to Africa when the airship's signals were first heard. After the first signal two more distress messages were picked up, coming at brief intervals. No further word was received.

The storm is still raging in the lower Tyrrhenian and Ionian seas, and vessels en route to Egypt and the near east have been held up for the past three days.

The captain of the steamer Tebe, arriving three days late at Naples, reported that his ship was hit by lightning on December 24, the bolt hitting the wireless shack. He was coming from Alexandria when the gale broke on December 25 and from that day on the storm continued.

The steamers Orsonova from Ancona, and the Lamartine from Marseilles, arrived at Naples Friday with their superstructures damaged by the huge waves of the storm.

More Space Needed.

Hotel, apartment and office space has for several years failed to increase as rapidly as the demand for it and Atlanta for two years has been practically a national record in the smallness of its percentage of vacancies. The normal average is for 10 per cent of all business, hotel and apartment space to be vacant. Atlanta has less than 3 per cent vacancy and at times has run closer than that to the zero mark. Difficulty of getting space has made difficult the city's sensational growth in population and with the prospective relief when projects which are now under way are completed, new stimulus will be given to the city's expansion.

April, with nearly $5,000,000 worth of permits, and January, with $3,310,000 worth were the biggest months of this year. While November and December showed a decline of $100,000 over the same months of last year, the last five months of this year showed the smallest figures of this year.

tragedy. The whereabouts of the giant aircraft and the other forty-nine members of her crew is not known. French naval officers are hurrying to southern Sicily to examine the body of Lieutenant Grenadan, and some hope is expected that on it will be found documents which will serve to clear up the cause of the disaster.

From the village of Sciaccia, off which the body of Lieutenant Grenadan was found by fishermen, the 100 miles across the Mediterranean sea to Tunis in northern Africa will be searched by French warships for traces of the Dismare, while the patrols which already are combing the north African wilds and the regions far to the south, including the Sahara desert, will continue their work.

Hope Is Abandoned.

The Dixmude was last heard from a week ago when she sent out a radio message from a point southwest of Touggourt, Algeria, saying she was bound back toward her airbase, near Mardelles, whence she had started December 18 on an eighteen-hour cruise to northern Africa and return. The French naval authorities by wireless warned the airship that a gale was blowing across the Mediterranean and it would be unsafe to attempt the trip.

The last vestige of hope that the Dixmude might eventually turn up, which had persisted among some of the French naval airmen and semi-officials of the ministry of marine, vanished late tonight on the receipt of a telegram from the ministry commanding the Algiers base to M. Raiberti, ministry of marine, saying no evidence could be placed in the story of the airship's entry at In Salah, on the edge of the Sahara desert, that the dirigible had been seen in that vicinity.

It was officially stated tonight that the last heard from the Dixmude was Friday, December 21, when the aircraft acknowledged a radio message from Algiers. The opinion of the experts at the ministry of marine is that the dirigible was wrecked that very night or early Saturday morning, the end coming suddenly in the terrific hurricane which raged for twenty-four hours, the wind sometimes attaining a velocity of between 90 and 100 miles an hour.

WAS 150 MILES AN HOUR.

Rome, December 28.—As Italian warships join in the search off Sicily for bodies of the crew of the Dismare, Mediterranean steamers arriving at Italian ports bring word of the great gale in which the dirigible apparently met her doom.

The captain of the Italian steamer Porto di Alessandria reports that on the night of December 25 he picked up wireless distress signals of the giant aircraft. A tremendous gale was blowing, and the captain estimates the wind velocity at 150 miles an hour.

His ship was battling heavy seas on the Naples-Benghazi route to Africa when the airship's signals were first heard. After the first signal two more distress messages were picked up, coming at brief intervals. No further word was received.

The storm is still raging in the lower Tyrrhenian and Ionian seas, and vessels en route to Egypt and the near east have been held up for the past three days.

The captain of the steamer Tebe, arriving three days late at Naples, reported that his ship was hit by lightning on December 24, the bolt hitting the wireless shack. He was coming from Alexandria when the gale broke on December 25 and from that day on the storm continued.

The steamers Orsonova from Ancona, and the Lamartine from Marseilles, arrived at Naples Friday with their superstructures damaged by the huge waves of the storm.

More Space Needed.

Hotel, apartment and office space has for several years failed to increase as rapidly as the demand for it and Atlanta for two years has been practically a national record in the smallness of its percentage of vacancies. The normal average is for 10 per cent of all business, hotel and apartment space to be vacant. Atlanta has less than 3 per cent vacancy and at times has run closer than that to the zero mark. Difficulty of getting space has made difficult the city's sensational growth in population and with the prospective relief when projects which are now under way are completed, new stimulus will be given to the city's expansion.

April, with nearly $5,000,000 worth of permits, and January, with $3,310,000 worth were the biggest months of this year. While November and December showed a decline of $100,000 over the same months of last year, the last five months of this year showed the smallest figures of this year.

tragedy. The whereabouts of the giant aircraft and the other forty-nine members of her crew is not known. French naval officers are hurrying to southern Sicily to examine the body of Lieutenant Grenadan, and some hope is expected that on it will be found documents which will serve to clear up the cause of the disaster.

From the village of Sciaccia, off which the body of Lieutenant Grenadan was found by fishermen, the 100 miles across the Mediterranean sea to Tunis in northern Africa will be searched by French warships for traces of the Dismare, while the patrols which already are combing the north African wilds and the regions far to the south, including the Sahara desert, will continue their work.

Hope Is Abandoned.

The Dixmude was last heard from a week ago when she sent out a radio message from a point southwest of Touggourt, Algeria, saying she was bound back toward her airbase, near Mardelles, whence she had started December 18 on an eighteen-hour cruise to northern Africa and return. The French naval authorities by wireless warned the airship that a gale was blowing across the Mediterranean and it would be unsafe to attempt the trip.

The last vestige of hope that the Dixmude might eventually turn up, which had persisted among some of the French naval airmen and semi-officials of the ministry of marine, vanished late tonight on the receipt of a telegram from the ministry commanding the Algiers base to M. Raiberti, ministry of marine, saying no evidence could be placed in the story of the airship's entry at In Salah, on the edge of the Sahara desert, that the dirigible had been seen in that vicinity.

It was officially stated tonight that the last heard from the Dixmude was Friday, December 21, when the aircraft acknowledged a radio message from Algiers. The opinion of the experts at the ministry of marine is that the dirigible was wrecked that very night or early Saturday morning, the end coming suddenly in the terrific re-election as the Democratic candidate.

In Alabama an anti-Underwood movement came to the surface when L. B. Musgrove, a dry leader of that state, announced that he would be a democratic presidential candidate against Underwood in the state primary.

There are several other signs that the open season for politics is at hand. Coolidge's personal campaign representative, William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, announces that he will become a candidate for the United States senate immediately after the republican national convention. He probably will be opposed by Louis A. Coolidge, a Boston business man. Coolidge comes of the same original stock as the president, but the relationship is quite remote. Watch will run for

Butler ISSUES
ROSY REPORT

Chicago, December 28.—William M. Butler, manager of the campaign to nominate President Coolidge, issued his first formal statement on the campaign here Friday and declared that "most gratifying reports are coming in from every section of the country." The campaign for the nomination of President Coolidge will be conducted from Chicago, where general headquarters have been opened," Butler said.

"Maturing plans for organizing the campaign in many of the middle western states are being adopted every day. In addition to this enthusiastic friends and admirers of the president in a great many states and localities voluntarily and on their own responsibility are organizing Coolidge clubs in their respective communities."

Butler declared that "every indication" pointed toward Coolidge's reelection from Illinois. It is understood that appointment of a manager for the Illinois campaign has been held in abeyance because of bitter factional strife between republican leaders in this state, but the name of Senator McKinley is among those mentioned as possibilities.

VIRGINIA TARGET OF BITTER SPEECH

Goldsboro, N. C., December 28.—The state of Virginia has challenged the sovereignty of this proud old state and is even now attempting to fix our intrastate rates in a foreign jurisdiction," declared Governor Cameron Morrison here today, addressing a special meeting of the Eastern North Carolina Shippers' association called to consider what is declared by members to be a move toward higher freight rates in North Carolina, a case brought by Virginia before the interstate commerce commission. "I am going to take you men and give Virginia the best beating North Carolina has ever given anybody," the governor added. "When we get through this fight we are going to have taught Virginia that she had better attend to her own business."

Sensor F. M. Simmons, speaking at the meeting, endorsed Governor Morrison's plan for establishing better terminal facilities at the seaports and he said if this does not bring about freight reductions, then the carrying out of Governor Morrison's plan for a state-owned ship line. Both Governor Morrison and Senator Simmons reviewed past freight rates and asserted that the salvation of the state must come from within. Governor Morrison declared that the development of the state's waterways and their use combined with the use of rail facilities would bring about a reduction in the straight rail rates and urged the people to get behind plans for a state-owned ship line.

At the close of the meeting those present decided to move together to prevent any change in rates which would put North Carolina at a disadvantage.

MANY CITIES LIVING BEYOND THEIR MEANS

Washington, December 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The cities of the country generally—there are exceptions—are not living within their incomes, census bureau statistics announced today, indicated.

A compilation of revenues in the fiscal year 1922 for the 261 cities having a population of 30,000 or more shows a total indebtedness incurred that year amounting to $5.56 for each resident. The cost of government per capita, including expenditures for permanent improvement amounted to $57.38 for the year, against revenues of $51.81, the total figures being $2,222,566,519 and $2,007,988,796, respectively.

The total net indebtedness at the close of the year was $3,618,967,272, or $93.42 per capita.

The total cost of government in 1922 was highest in the cities having a population of 500,000 or over, with a per capita cost of $66.88. The next highest per capita, $64.23, is shown for cities with a population of 300,000 to 500,000. The per capita cost of cities from 57,000 to 100,000, $44.94, and in the smallest cities having a population of 30,000 to 50,000, $44.28.

Comparable statistics for 190 of the principal cities show the per capita cost has increased from $34.08 in 1915 to $58.07 in 1922.

An analysis of the costs of the city government shows the per capita cost for maintenance and operation of general departments was the principal item and amounted to $33.15. The per capita cost of permanent improvements was $15.95.

New York, the country's largest city, came through the year with a surplus of revenues of $1.25 per capita over expenditures but the per capita net indebtedness amounted to $182.72.

Chicago's revenues lacked $3.36 per capita of meeting her expenditures, but her net indebtedness amounted to only $46.36 per capita. Philadelphia, third largest city, ended the year with a per capita deficit of $9.05 and a per capita net indebtedness of $103.23.

Among cities with a population of 100,000 or more, Seattle had the highest per capita revenue receipts, amounting to $93.55; Boston was second with $80.55; Los Angeles third with $78.81, and New York fourth with $69.94. The four cities with lowest per capita revenues were: Birmingham $25.38; Reading $23.13; San Antonio $26.20, and Nashville $28.01.

The highest per capita cost of government was at Detroit, where it amounted to $120.30. Seattle was second with $110.71, and Los Angeles third with $99.34. In all of these cities large outlays for permanent improvements were made in the year.

The four cities with lowest per capita costs were: San Antonio $25.65; Birmingham $28.95; Scranton $29.03, and Reading $32.79.

Detroit showed the largest per capita deficit with $54.77. Norfolk was next with $49.42; Rochester third with $19.10 and Youngstown fourth with $18.05.

St. Louis had the largest per capita surplus, with $18.91. Spokane showed $14.61; Boston $4.21 and Cincinnati $3.43.

Ballots were again returned to headquarters and counted by a special committee, the eight members receiving the highest number of votes being announced as members of the board.

Members are elected for terms of two years, with eight members retiring each year and eight new selected to fill their vacancies.

Officers are elected by the general board of sixteen directors, either from the membership at large or from members of the board.

At the meeting Friday of old and new members, officers for the ensuing year were elected. Installation ceremonies will take place at the annual banquet of the club to be held in January, it was announced.

DISEASE AUTHORITY DIES IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, December 28.—Dr. T. S. Dabney, who won international fame when he diagnosed the first human case of cholera or anthrax, and an authority on tropical diseases died at his home here today. He was 73 years of age and a native of Louisiana. Dr. Dabney among other accomplishments, reported in 1898 the first case of hookworm in Louisiana, and as a second-year medical student at Tulane university in the 70s introduced a remedy for dropsy in the form of a tincture of an herb used by Indians near Brookhaven, Miss., which he became acquainted with when he left school temporarily and went to that section to assist physicians in fighting a yellow fever epidemic.

Dr. Dabney leaves one son, Thomas Ewing Dabney, of this city. Burial will be at Raymond, Miss.

JONES URGES STEPS TO BETTER SHIPPING

Washington, December 28.—Extension of the coastwise shipping laws to the Philippines, separation of the emergency fleet corporation from the shipping board, compulsory cooperation between American railroads and shipping and a survey of the needs for a permanent merchant marine were recommended to President Coolidge today by Chairman Jones, of the senate commerce committee.

Senator Jones submitted his recommendations in response to a request from the president, who asked him for memorandum of his views on various shipping and allied problems.

Recalling that the shipping act of 1920 provided for extension of coastwise laws to insular possessions and territories upon ascertainment of the existence of adequate facilities, Senator Jones declared the shipping board should be in position to report whether this condition now obtains.

"I understand," he said, "that an adequate shipping service has been established. If so, the intention of congress should be carried out."

It was reported some time ago, the memorandum continued, that the state department advised that such action would contravene certain treaties, but Senator Jones asserted that, in reply to a specific inquiry, the department denied it had ever expressed that opinion.

The state department advises me, however," he continued, "that it is not to be considered either formally or informally. The commission has expressed no views upon it and has not authorized any one to speak for it. Your letter contains the first information that the tariff commission has received that such a memorandum was submitted to the state department."

Burglar Is Shot At Crawfordville, Associate Taken

Crawfordville, Ga., December 28.—(Special).—Two burglars attempted to open the safe of the Berry Motor company here last night, and one was shot and captured and the other was later arrested.

The burglars evidently were amateurs, as they attempted to get the safe open by the use of hammer and drill instead of blowing it. While engaged in the work they were discovered by Marshal Ed Howell, and in attempting to get away one of them was shot through one leg and captured; the other escaped in a waiting automobile, but was captured at Greensboro, and both now are confined in the Tallapoosa county jail.

The Berry Motor company is located on the main street of the town and the safe was in the front office. The men are young and claim that their homes are in Atlanta.

Although they failed to get the safe open, it was badly damaged. Several dollars were taken from the cash register.

U. S. Judge Evans Ill.

Louisville, Ky., December 28.—Judge Walter Evans, for 25 years judge of the federal court of western Kentucky district, and former congressman, is seriously ill at his home here today, being in a state of coma. He lost consciousness Thursday night. Judge Evans is 84 years old and a few weeks ago announced his intention of resigning from the federal bench on the first of the New Year. He has been in declining health for a long time.

St. Louis, December 28.—Fowler Smith Loftin, owner of considerable real estate here, this afternoon announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor on a platform which he described as "wet as the Mississippi river." His announcement declared the 18th amendment a "grave mistake" and the Volstead law "tyranny." He declared himself in favor of good roads and a soldier bonus.

Honors School Girls
At Driving Club

Miss Rebecca Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, and Miss Ellen Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Newell, who are home for the holidays from Sweetbriar college in Virginia, were honor guests at the Christmas tea-dance Friday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club, given by Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft.

The ballroom of the club was beautiful in its holiday decorations of poinsettias, holly, mistletoe and palms.

Tea was served from a long table placed on one side of the room. Large silver baskets holding crimson colored poinsettias were placed at intervals down the center alternating with silver candlesticks holding unadorned red tapers.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Newell and Dr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis, of Toccoa, Ga.

Among the attractive visiting belles present was Miss Cecil Graves Johnson, of Birmingham, Ala., the house guest of Miss Ashcraft. The members of the Yale Glee club, also were among the out-of-town guests present.

Miss Ashcraft wore a beautiful afternoon gown of dark blue crepe elaborately headed in tulle. Her corsage bouquet was of Parma violets and valley lilies.

Miss Newell was gowned in black velvet, trimmed with ermine. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Ashcraft was gowned in black chiffon velvet trimmed with jet and rhinestone ornaments. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Newell wore an exquisite afternoon gown of orchid crepe meteor, tinged with rose. Her flowers were orchids.

Over two hundred guests were present.

Mrs. Rose Ashby Will Speak.

The Atlanta Psychological society, Mrs. Rose Ashby president, will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Mahogany room of the Ansley hotel. The subject of the lecture will be "New Thought." Just what the new thought is, its scope and purpose will be interpreted by Mrs. Ashby. The psychology of New Year resolutions will also be explained.

Both men and women who are interested are cordially invited.

Younger Set Is Honored At Dancing Party

Mrs. Silas Davis entertained at a dance at the Club de Vingt Friday evening, in compliment to her sister, Miss Miriam Davis, of Meridian, Miss., and her son, Silas Davis, Jr. Attractive prizes were given to the young couple who won the dancing contest which was held during the evening.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Simmons, M., and Mrs. A. F.

Miss Thelma Hennessee Weds Charles Harwell Carroll, II

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hennessee announce the marriage of their daughter, Thelma, to Charles Harwell Carroll, II. The marriage took place Monday evening, December 24, at 8 o'clock, at the parsonage of Trinity Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. S. H. Bels, performing the ceremony which was witnessed by relatives and a group of intimate friends including Miss Irene Bedell, William F. Keenan and C. E. Rush.

The bride wore a becoming gown of silver tissue, veiling silver metal cloth and her corsage was of pink sweet peas.

She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hennessee and is a radiantly beautiful young woman. The bride attended Washington seminary and is president of the Margaret A. Wilson chapter of the Children of the Confederacy. Her family is originally from Covington, and she is a representative of prominent families. Her mother was formerly Miss Leone Aikens, a noted beauty.

Mr. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harwell Carroll, Sr., who are former residents of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. Carroll is city superintendent in Atlanta for the Western Union. He is a descendant of Charles Carroll, of Maryland, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. On his maternal side Mr. Carroll is a grandson of Governor Ferguson, of Texas. He attended the Georgia School of Technology for three years and is a member of the Theta Chi fraternity. At present he is connected with W. Duke & Sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will make their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Hennessee at 754 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Haskell-Lanham Engagement
Announced at Ft. McPherson

An announcement of unusual interest in military and civilian social circles was that of the engagement of Miss Juliet Haskell and Cadet Charles Truman Lanham, first class, United States Military Academy, at an elaborate bridge-ten given Friday by Mr. Ernest Eddy Haskell, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. George P. Hawes, at the Officers' club at Fort McPherson.

The club was beautifully decorated in elaborate Christmas decorations. Wreaths of holly tied with wide red satin ribbon adorned the walls, with garlands of similar gracefully draping the windows and chandeliers. The tea table was overlaid with a handsome imported cover. Gracing the center was a mound of bride-maid roses and lilies of the valley. Silver candlesticks holding unadorned pink tapers tied with butterfly bows of airy pink tulle holding sprays of valley lilies were placed at either end. Pouring tea from an antique silver service were Mrs. David Shanks and Mrs. Johnstone.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mr. P. A. Cole, Mrs. Melville Jarvis and a bevy of attractive young girls.

Miss Haskell is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. E. E. Haskell, of Fort McPherson, and is a representative of aristocratic southern families.

On her maternal side she is the granddaughter of William Montgomery Rice, son of the late General John H. Rice, who was adjutant general for Georgia at the outbreak of the Civil War. He was also owner of the famous Franklin Printing company. The Rice family were originally from Virginia and were an esteemed and influential family of that state. The bride-elect is also related to the Stephenson family of Bourbon county, Kentucky.

On her paternal side Miss Haskell is a descendant of the distinguished and well-known Haskell family of South Carolina, the family coming south from Massachusetts with the early settlers. A lovely bit of sentiment attached to the first name of the charming young bride-elect is the fact that she is the ninth member of each generation bearing the name, Juliet.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Lanham, of Washington, D. C., and his family is one of the oldest and aristocratic families belonging to the state of Maryland.

The marriage of Miss Haskell and Cadet Lanham will take place in the early summer following the graduation of the bride-elect in June at Vassar college where she is a student and the completion of the military course at West Point Academy by the groom.

Mrs. J. R. Gray
Gives Dance
For Granddaughters

Mrs. James Richard Gray entertained at a dance Friday evening at her home on Peachtree road, in honor of her lovely granddaughters, Miss Mary Ann Pearce and Miss Mary Louise Brumby.

The handsome home was decorated with potted plants and baskets filled with pink roses and carnations.

During the evening a buffet supper was served.

Mrs. Gray was gowned in a black crepe beautifully headed in tulle. Miss Pearce was lovely in a blue satin trimmed with silver lace.

Miss Brumby wore a becoming gown of rose georgette with graceful draperies headed in pearls.

The guests included 100 of the young social set.

Miss Louise Scott
Weds Mr. Cobb
At Quiet Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Louise Scott, of Adairville, Ga., and William Bruce Cobb, of Atlanta, which took place Thursday, December 20, is of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends.

The ceremony was quietly solemnized in the presence of only a few close friends, after which Mr. Cobb and his bride left for a wedding trip to Florida. They are at home by the present with the groom's uncle, William H. Bruce, at 19 Fairview road, in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Cobb, previous to her marriage, was a student nurse at the Piedmont sanitarium. She is a young girl of charming personality, and will be quite a lovely addition to the young married contingent of Atlanta.

Mr. Cobb, a member of prominent families, is one of the most popular young men in both business and social circles of the city. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Cobb, his mother was formerly Miss Mamie Bruce and he is a grandson of A. C. Bruce, one of the most prominent pioneers of Atlanta, who is identified with the upbuilding of the early history of the city.

Mr. Cobb since finishing school has been connected with the Atlanta & West Point railway.

Miss Louise Scott Weds Mr. Cobb At Quiet Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Louise Scott, of Adairville, Ga., and William Bruce Cobb, of Atlanta, which took place Thursday, December 20, is of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends.

The ceremony was quietly solemnized in the presence of only a few close friends, after which Mr. Cobb and his bride left for a wedding trip to Florida. They are at home by the present with the groom's uncle, William H. Bruce, at 19 Fairview road, in Druid Hills.

Mrs. Cobb, previous to her marriage, was a student nurse at the Piedmont sanitarium. She is a young girl of charming personality, and will be quite a lovely addition to the young married contingent of Atlanta.

Mr. Cobb, a member of prominent families, is one of the most popular young men in both business and social circles of the city. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Cobb, his mother was formerly Miss Mamie Bruce and he is a grandson of A. C. Bruce, one of the most prominent pioneers of Atlanta, who is identified with the upbuilding of the early history of the city.

Morning Matinee
Program Given for Boys and Girls

Douglas Fairbanks, will be shown at the boys' and girls' matinee at the Howard theater Saturday, December 29, at 10 o'clock.

"A President's Answer," the sixth episode of the Lincoln cycle, is the instructional feature for Saturday of this week. A short comedy will also be shown.

Little Misses Joyce and Charlotte Valer, two of Atlanta's most talented dancers, will appear in attractive solo dances. Miss Joyce Valer will present "The Orientale," and Miss Charlotte Valer the "Valse Bluette." Both numbers are very artistic, and will be a delightful supplement to the picture program.

Mrs. G. H. Guy and members of the parent-teacher association will act as official chaperones.

"Stolen Gold," a first-run, two-reel, western drama, featuring Jack Mower, a Concol production, will be shown at the Alpha theater Saturday, December 29, at 7:30 o'clock.

"The Lava Crusher," ninth episode of the "Ruth of the Range" serial, starring Ruth Roland, will also be shown. Completing the picture part of the program, a two-reel Savini comedy, starring Charlie Chaplin, will be presented.

Little Miss Calvina Wilkie will appear in an attractive solo dance, "Modiste," which will be staged as a prologue. Mrs. Elvia Barrett and Mrs. S. H. D. Wilkie will act as official chaperones.

Miss Doughty Manley Gives Colorful Fancy Dress Party

Miss Doughty Manley entertained at a unique and attractive masquerade dance Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Manley, on Peachtree road.

Handsome Decorations

The ballroom was artistically decorated with large baskets of poinsettias, the handles tied with red tulle, and placed against a background of palms and potted plants.

An interesting feature of the evening was the cotillion, led by Miss Manley and Graham McCullough, introducing a number of attractive figures.

Exquisite imported favors were given the guests and unique dance cards adorned with dainty silhouettes of the charming hostess were presented to all the guests.

At 11 o'clock a delicious supper was served, after which the guests continued dancing.

The young hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Manley and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCullough, Jr.

The guests included 150 members of the younger social contingent, who displayed many attractive costumes.

Miss Manley, the lovely hostess, represented a gypsy in an elaborate costume trimmed with small bells.

Mrs. Manley was dressed as an Indian maiden in a gown of red and yellow satin adorned with strands of bright beads.

Mr. Manley, as an Italian, wore a costume of brown velvet with a red sash.

Mrs. J. M. McCullough, Jr., was lovely in a Spanish costume.

Miss Goddard's Costume.

Miss Mary Goddard, as Mae Murray, wore an exquisite costume.

Miss Helen Gude was costumed to represent "Night."

Miss Peggy Gude represented a gypsy.

Miss Josephine Richardson wore a beautiful peasant costume.

Boyce Loke portrayed a "Wooden Soldier."

Miss Helena Calloway wore an elaborate Japanese costume.

Misses Helen and Martha Candler were dressed as Japanese twins.

Abner Calhoun wore a Mexican costume.

James Calhoun represented a Spaniard.

Miss Louise Calhoun, as "Little Boy Blue," wore an attractive costume.

George Forrester, Jr., represented a "Tin Soldier."

Robert McCullough wore a Spanish costume.

Lee Richardson represented Harry Lauder.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE.

More and More Color Is Used to Give Note to Contrast in Black Frocks.

What is your idea of a suitable house frock?

What do you as a matter of choice when you know you are going to remain indoors in the evening or afternoon?

Women are forever surprising each other by the answers to this question. Of course they don't actually answer it, usually, save by example. There are some women who never see, quite make out at home in steam-heated houses or apartments until they have doctored something sheer or filmy. They cling to summer wash frocks and are never more comfortable indoors than when wearing a frock originally intended for sunnier climes and warmer seasons.

The one-piece sport frock is the choice of many women for general indoor wear, and there are still a few who cling to amazing tenacity to the blouse and skirt combination for lounge indoors. Fortunately most women have learned the folly of wearing the skirt and blouse belonging to a suit as an indoor frock. Some women never make an exception, but plans for what they shall wear at home indoors. They wear anything that seems a little too dilapidated for wear anywhere. They are not of the same sort or other fill the bill completely for other women.

The sketch shows a house frock of unusually smart lines—black crepe trimmed with panels of jade.

We see the all and unrelievedly black frock less this season than last, and an increasing tendency to wear black combined with some strong color for trimming. Black velvet frocks for young girls as well as grown-ups are made with this color contrast.

Your idea of an appropriate house frock depends on course entirely on your idea of your home. If it is only a sort of dry docks where you put in naturally take little thought concerning what you wear while you are there.

PER CAPITA COST IN AUGUSTA GIVEN
AS $35.97 IN 1997

Washington, D. C., December 28—The department of commerce today announced that the costs of government for the city of Augusta, Ga., for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1997, amounted to $1,033.5, which was a per capita cost of $35.97. In 1992, the per capita cost was $29.45.

"In August property taxes for 1992 represented 61.0 per cent of the total revenue for that year; 53.5 per cent for 1991; and 42.9 per cent for 1990. The increase of property taxes, a reflection of the increase in from 1911 to 1922. The per capita property taxes were $24.30 in 1922, $15.07 in 1917, and $8.64 in 1914. Earnings of public service enterprises operated by the city represented 11.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1922; 16.5 per cent for 1917, and 17.0 for 1914.

The net indebtedness (funds and floating debt less sinking fund payments) of Augusta was $57.94 per capita in 1922, $71.04 for 1917, and $96.81 for 1914.

For 1922 the assessed valuation of property in Augusta, subject to a valuer's taxation for the city corporation, was $46,816,802. The levies for all purposes for 1922 was $2

Market Has Begun Broad Bull Movement—Livermore

BY R. L. BARNUM.
New York, December 28.—With new high records being made in the number of individual issues traded in on the stock exchange, the prices sold off early in the day but recovered.

The increase is in recognition of higher prices recently made for crude oil which have of course raised the cost of raw material to refiners.

Great Northern November gross earnings were $12,218,000 against $10,503,000 a year ago and net $4,500, ated under the leadership of United States Steel common stockholders. The fact that the strong witnesses in attendance were so common during the past few days reflects buying by the United States Steel corporation in order to get the stock which will be offered in a few days to employees of the company, according to the plan followed at the time of the offering.

The United States Rubber announces an increase of 10 cents per share in price effective January 1 on all goods in the manufacture of which cotton

At Chicago pig-iron prices were advanced 50 cents a ton, denoting an improvement in this basic end of the steel industry. Advances were reported in the market about the same in crude oil and gasoline prices. But the news of the day of most interest to Wall street was an interesting item from the oil business which expressed the belief that the advance in the stock market of the past two months represents the early stages of a broad bull market similar to the one which followed the re-election of McKinley.

Daily transactions on the stock exchange now include over 500 individual shares of oil stock, which has never traded in. This is three times the high record previous to the war.

The advance of 2 cents a gallon in the price of oil will not be limited to the territory of Standard Oil of Indiana. Companies operating in other parts of the country are also using this oil.

The decrease of 14,232 reported in the weekly freight car loading statement covering the seven day ending December 15 was seasonal. A year ago compared with the previous week it showed a decrease of 20,000 cars and in 1921 the decrease was 15,000. However, it should be added that the decline from the 1,636,000 reported the week ending November 10 to the 899,522 for the week of December 15 is the largest decline ever recorded. The week ending December 15 the increase over the same week of last year was only 20,000 whereas for the week ending November 10 the increase over last year was 92,000. While the decline now reported is seasonal, the heavy falling off compared with only a few weeks ago reflects the slow down in the economy which has become apparent several months ago and continued until very recently. It the country may be expected to fix future price schedules in the near future.

Notice of the drawing for redemption on June 15 of 99,580 pounds sterling of the 5 per cent Hankow Railway gold loan of the Chinese government has been forwarded by J. P. Morgan & Company. Holders of the bonds drawn will realize a considerable appreciation over the current price of the bonds as the issue has declined considerably due to Chinese internal difficulties.

New York bankers have learned that Frederick W. Stivers, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who represented the American group in the International Consortium for several years in China, has been elected president of the Michigan Trust company.

Not profit of $244,871 for the first takes some months for the trend of several business months to be reflected in freight car loadings.

BIG ADVANCE SEEN IN OILS AND COAL

New York, December 28.—Heavy buying of the oil shares, based on a further upward revision of crude oil prices, has increased 2 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was the outstanding feature of today's strong curb market.

Standard Oil of Ohio jumped 15 points, Standard Oil of Nebraska 10, Prairie Oil and Gas 8, and Magnolia 7, while gains of 1 to 3 points were recorded by Humble, Imperial of Can-

Net profit of $308,871 for the first nine months of the year was reported by the Martin-Parry corporation. This compared with $318,425 for the first nine months of 1922.

Preliminary figures disclosed by the North American company and subsidiaries show that in Cleveland, St. Louis, Milwaukee, and other cities show that this group served 591,536 electric customers on November 20, 1923, an increase of more than 25 per cent over the same date a year ago.

New York bankers and bond holders express intense interest in the decision of the Federal Reserve Board to establish a new low record for the year at 6 1/2 as against a high of 24 3/4 after the Schwab interest rate was cut to 6 1/2. The features of the industrial group. General Electric support developed in the stock market and sent it up to 8 1/2 for a share of fractional gain on the day. Radio Corporation of America, Henry Iron, and other two active industrials, also improved fractionally.
